

Explain why it is important to understand pig behavior.

Demonstrate creating positive experiences for pigs during daily checks.

Name the pig's three responses to potential threats.

Identify the pig's blind spot, and practice proper positioning in the pig's field of vision when applying pressure.

Prepare and inspect a hallway prior to movement

Approach a group of pigs and explain the pig's flight zone.

Use positioning to let pigs circle around to release pressure.

Explain the barns protocol for the number of pigs to be moved per group in the space available.

Demonstrate applying smart pressure: visual stimuli, sound and light physical touch with and without an animal handling device.

Explain barns protocol in the event of treating a severely stressed or non-ambulatory pig.
